

Washington Review Course

The Washington Bar exam is all essays - no MBE or Performance components. There are 18 substantive questions at 9 per day in sets of 3 essays each. 135 minutes are allowed per set or 45 minutes each on average. There are between 12 and 16 issues raised in every 45 minute question. The final day is one set of 6 Professional Responsibility essays in 135 minutes or 22½ minutes per question. Our material, writing program, and online grading/mentoring are focused on the Washington exam.

Oregon Review Course

On the Oregon Bar Exam, the MBE and essays count 50% each. The Oregon exam uses the 6 hour MBE which contains 200 rather difficult multiple choice questions. Within the essay 50% is one 90 minute performance question worth 12.5% of the exam. The rest of the essay portion worth 37.5% of the exam is 9 NCBE and Oregon essay questions that are to be completed in 5.25 hours or 35 minutes on average.

Our course is held on Saturdays at Lewis & Clark Law School in Portland. We lead off with the MBE topics for the first 6 weeks of class. The program then turns to the essay and performance questions featuring online grading/mentoring to improve your essay substantive knowledge and presentation skills.

California Review Course

The California exam is very similar to Oregon except the essays are 60 minutes and the performance questions are 180 minutes. Contact our office for more details.

Continuing Assistance Guarantee

Program Rewards

- Chances are very good that you won't need our free Continuing Assistance Guarantee. 79% of our students completed the "seamless process" and 99.3% of them passed the July 2009 exams. This is at least a 15% advantage over the competition.
- A free repeat guarantee is available to first-time takers completing our "seamless process" who meet all our Program Continuing Assistance Requirements described below.

Continuing Assistance Guarantee Requirements

- Attend the Orientation lecture, Writing, and Performance workshops.
- Before class, preview those subjects that you didn't have in law school or otherwise want more foundation in before the detailed class study.
- Attend and listen carefully to all of the live instruction substantive lectures. We answer on-point questions in class.
- Summarize the text and complete your Magic Memory Outlines® after class, either on paper or (preferably) by using the Rigos Word software template on CD-ROM. Doing these well is extremely important to your success on the bar exam.
- Write all our individually critiqued and graded essay and performance questions. Electronically submit answers for evaluation within a week of assignment. The essays cover substantive topics (35, 45, or 60 minutes each), a performance task (90 or 180 minutes), and two essays focused on professional responsibility subjects.
- Sit for and take four class practice exam sets.
- Complete the Professor Teaching Critique and the Course Quality Control Evaluation form. Help us continue to improve.
- Complete the ten-day final review at the end of the course and make your best effort on the actual bar exam.

Recent Student Comments

What a terrific program! While my friends amused me with their tales of Barbri woe, I was able to relax and focus on bar prep. Rigos was a lot of work, but the learning environment was healthy and positive.

I felt prepared and confident going into the exam. Great program, highly recommended!

Kaci Callahan
University of Oregon, '09

I used the competitor for the CA bar and was unsatisfied. Rigos' online lectures, Magic Memory Outlines, & supportive staff helped me to pass the WA bar even working full time.

Olivia Willis
Lewis and Clark, '05

Great program! Would definitely recommend. In fact, after passing the Washington bar exam with Rigos, I am taking their course for the California bar exam.

Tom Hendrickson
Seattle University, '09

I passed two bar exams; one with Barbri and one with Rigos. Rigos is far superior. The material is more focused and the Magic Memory Outlines excellent. The mentors and the online essay grading system are outstanding.

Kurt Rowland
Gonzaga University, '06

I've taken three different state bar exams, so I've tried both Rigos and your national competitor. I feel strongly that Rigos has by far the superior method. Thank you!

Paige Pratter
University of Pennsylvania, '03

Rigos enjoys a great reputation at my law school. I'm sure glad I followed the advice of others and enrolled in Rigos. The program was absolutely top drawer.

10 Big Rigos Bar Review Series Advantages

Live Class, Audio Lecture, or Traditional Self-Study

Attendance at our live class locations is recommended, but we also offer an audio course over the internet as well as a less expensive self-study program. All our self-study courses use the same materials and graded essays as the live class.

Materials

Convenient, efficient coded materials with tabs in binders, not big bound books. Student can pull out sections, and spread out text, outlines, practice questions, issue frequency charts, and sample answers side-by-side for ease of study.

Text Coverage and Focus

All our learning materials are focused only on law that has been tested on the state specific bar exams. Our class instructors cover only the Rigos standard textbook outlines adding tips, techniques, and practice questions. Rigos features easy-to-use chapters containing:

- Concise and comprehensive substantive law focusing on the most frequently tested issues.
- Over 1,700 multiple-choice and 300 actual past bar exam essay questions and answers categorized by subject.

Writing Program

Essay and performance writing workshops focus on HOW to write (clear, concise, powerful, and direct) rather than WHAT to write (substance). We walk you through the best style, approach, and structure to use in writing answers.

- Essay and performance answers submitted and graded on-line to ensure timely, effective, and helpful feedback containing suggested improvement methods.
- Four timed exam sets of three hours each. These are taken under actual exam conditions and returned to you critiqued and graded.
- One-on-one student-grader conferences available after sufficient essays are submitted so the mentoring can focus on improving substance and presentation skills.

Analysis of Past Exams

Analysis of California, Oregon, and Washington questions from 2000 to present details the frequency of subjects, thus increasing your studying focus and learning efficiency.

Magic Memory Outlines® and Exam Software

Our outline templates and “Make Your Own Exam” drills are efficient and effective. These tools help students retain the vast quantity of information required for success.

Individual Attention and Mentoring

We offer individual attention both in person and by email at our email help desk. We contact you during the course to monitor your attendance and progress, provide one-on-one mentoring, and review exam essay answers for our few non-passers.

Early Bird Program

Students may start early in learning the most important black letter law. This allows more of the critical class time period to be spent on improving writing skills and question techniques.

Convenient Schedule and Location

Pick your own class location and time of day. Students may attend classes at more than one location for make-up and/or reinforcement. We also offer online lectures to accommodate students who prefer not to attend our live courses.

Who We Are

We are locally owned and managed with 30 years of national experience training students to pass their professional entrance exams. We are affiliated nationally with Aspen Publishers and Emanuel Bar and have over 100,000 alumni of whom over 15,000 are in Washington and Oregon. Our foremost goal is to help you pass the bar exam.
